

Target Day (Archery Arena)

1 Why

Strategy of 2023H2 is about finding key selling points of our competitors and fit them in Dream Blast. One opportunity was realized in Royal Match's Archery Arena which would fit well for our weekends.

For business: Encourages players to push themselves further to win against others and claim milestone rewards with the one day time limit. To properly compete, a win streak has to be maintained for improving score multiplier. This is meant to boost our conversion by increase in OOMs. Milestone reward should lengthen sessions (daily playtime) as proven by Rainbow Maker. Increase in session counts may be also observable for competitive players as there is a reason to check their status multiple times a day.

For players: Scoring system is simple but enticing. Maximum multiplier makes you feel powerful and having it full feels great as observed in Photoshoot and Kite Festival, too. Competition will be enjoyed by our Power player. Milestone rewards will be received well by all players, but especially by Achievers who have clear goals to complete in the event.

Pitch brief: Here

2 What

- Overall: Time-limited event where players compete against each other on a leaderboard with score multiplier and single player milestone rewards.
 - Technically, very similar to our Photoshoot-event with the addition of leaderboard while excluding customization.
 - Art and UI style follows the latest Dream Blast fashion considering popups, titles and characters.
 - Planned to be used as a concurring, daily event from Friday to Sunday.
- Scoring: By default, each level win is worth 1 score point (configurable).
 - That is multiplied by event specific streak multiplier and automatically added to the score in the leaderboard every time a level is completed.
- Milestone rewards: Granted automatically once player visits the event popup and required score amount is reached.
 - Unclaimed rewards are given once event ends.
- Failing a level resets the score multiplier, but not the score in leaderboard.
- When the event is over, players will receive a reward based on their rank in the leaderboard.
 - Players receive medals from this event.
- Event badge in meta opens the popup that displays leaderboard, multiplier and rewards.
 - Player is forced to event popup only once ever: if they won something from the leaderboard once it's over.
 - If player hasn't seen the infograph ever, then it's forced once when player enters the popup.
- Player reporting as in all events where other players are present, click here for further information.
- A/B-testable as usual with events
 - Especially testing different score multiplier values might be interesting.

3 How

3.1 Main flow

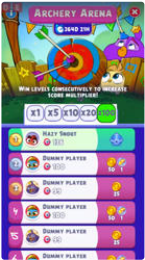

3.1.1 Popup animation details

3.1.2 Reward claiming

- If there are no rewards to claim and event ends, the event button (badge) disappears from main menu (meta).
- Player gets all the milestone rewards in the event popup when visiting it.
- Player who has not visited the event popup and the event ends:
 - Auto-open the event popup if rewards pending
 - Show milestone bar animation and give rewards if there are milestone rewards pending.
 - Show final position on the leaderboard if ended up on a position with rewards and give them.

3.1.2.1 Claiming the final Milestone reward

- After claiming the final prize, the milestone UI element disappear and leaderboard takes its place.

3.2 Configurables

- Event duration
 - Default: 24h
- Leaderboard size
 - Default: 50
 - Rewards for each position
- Score per level difficulty N / H / E

3.4 Theming/narrative

This editor does not support displaying this content: heading ②

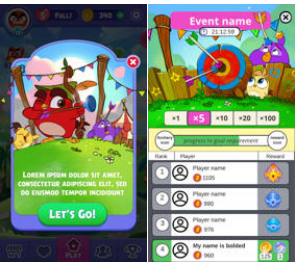

- Aiming at the bullseye is a strong symbol of succeeding, eg. "nailing it". Everyone understands this instantly. 🎯
 - Therefore, do not stray far from the original concept.
 - Explore alternatives for shooting arrows with a bow (archery): darts, pie throwing, colourful cloud balls (ei. snow-like)?
 - Add "sucker" element in the tip of arrows or darts to increase playfulness.
- Emotional goals: Casual and encouraging competition, friendly and warm atmosphere
 - Event popup is not forced often, loss aversion popup is a medium priority instead of high, it lasts only a day and there are milestone rewards for all.

3.4.1 Friendly competition in a warm daylight

- The birds are having fun together in a friendly, playful competition.
- All event visuals have the bullseye in the core part of illustrations.
- Red bird is in the focus of action but background visuals may imply audience of other birds.
- Location: Good weather and overall great, sunny day in an open area in Dream Blast world (eg. Field of Dreams).
- Name for the event: Target Practice

3.4.3 Mockups for archery - CHOSEN APPROACH

- Long arrows are easy to see
- Red looks cute with the bow and little hat
- Playful, yet competitive atmosphere

3.4.4 Mockups for darts

3.5 Offline behaviour

The usual that we have for our leaderboard events.

4 Audio

As a game designer, I'm thinking of following. Audio designer may edit the list on need basis:

- 1. Darts/arrows/pies hitting the target in the event popup upon entering it.
- 2. Generic UI SFX for multiplier increasing in the event popup upon entering it.
- 3. Generic UI SFX for filling milestone reward progress. If Rainbow Maker has one it can be used here, too.
- 4. Generic UI SFX for tapping different UI elements in popup: reward chests, info and exit.
- 5. Generic UI SFX for receiving rewards from Milestone and Leaderboard.

RM Clip for Audio team.mp4 a reference video from RM. Note that Royal Match has relatively poor audio for this event.

5 Analytics

As a game designer, I'm thinking of following:

- 1. Does conversion in OOMs popup improve?
- 2. Does playtime increase? How about session length?
- 3. How often player visits the event popup during the event?
- 4. Do players claim milestone rewards via popup or wait for event to end?
- 5. What's the score variance in the leaderboards?
- 6. How active are the players who get a reward from leaderboard?
- 7. How often players see this event's OOM warning as it's not as highly prioritized as other events?
